

I believe that individuals should have the right to decide whether or not to have telemarketers interrupt their lives. Allowing telemarketers to dictate who they can call is only the beginning of an invasion of privacy. Next thing you know, telemarketers will be permitted to call our cell-phones and we, the consumers, will be charged for the interruption! If the NJ do-not-call list is not adhered to, I would personally consider any telemarketing calls to be harassment. I am certain I'm not the only person who feels this way.
